A Poem About
Our Beloved Rhinos

The rhinos are roaming the great African plain,
They are a sight to behold in their proper domain

But the times are most troubling, there is virus afoot, and the soldiers that guard them, their numbers are cut

So we need to remember the poachers are out,
All rules and regulations they will certainly flout,

Please keep on giving to save our four-legged friends, on your donations their survival depends.
